Homework French Open 1

Summary

Yesterday lots of people watched the tennis final from Paris between Steffi Graf and Arantxa Sanchez. It was the greatest and longest match most of all tennis fans have ever seen. Arantxa Sanchez won the first set with 7:6 in the tie break. After that she had more selfconfidence. But Steffi was too good. She won the second set with 6:3. In the third set Sanchez fought for each point. After some time the German led with 4:3 but Arantxa was still fighting for the title. Both players worked very hard. Steffi was not playing as well as she can. Nevertheless she tried to win. But it was not enough. The 17-years-old-girl from Spain won four games in a row and then she was serving for the match. And after two hours and fifty-eight minutes she was the youngest ever winner of a Grand-Slam-tournament.

Homework French Open 2

School-Exercise June 12th, 1989

She has done it - one way to answer the top spin shot - it's very unlike to her. Steffi has won three games in a row - she would be the first Spain and the youngest player ever to win the title. Sanchez is 3/4 down in this third set. We come back to Roland Garros to keep the ball in play - she is keeping in that point - she is still fighting for this title she has a much bigger serve - to win the point against Graf - she not playing as well as she can - what a cheeky shot - that's what she gonna try to - the match of her life - to have stay in - the perfect volley - now breakpoint - she has won 4 games in a row - she is now serving for the match - Steffi worked very hard - Sanchez didn't give up. What an unbelievable long match this is - and her mother is so proud - listen to the applaus - they like what they see - Steffi was too late - she has ever won one tournament it great when the crowd is with you but it's bad when it is against you - three breakpoints, Steffi Graf leads the court - She is the number 1 player in the world - Steffi's backhand was superb - matchpoint for A. Sanchez - very sporting from Steffi Graf.

Homework French Open 3

'Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen! We are back now at the final match in the 'French Open' - tennis-tournament between Steffi Graf and Arantxa Sanchez. The Spaniard leads in the third set with three to two. The first set was won by Sanchez seven to six and Graf the second one six to three.

At this moment, the players end their little interval of 90 seconds and Sanchez is going to serve."

After the next game:

"Sanchez has lost her serve-game! Graf has equalized to three all. Now it will be very difficult for Sanchez to win the match. Graf is going to serve!...."

After the next game:

"Graf won the game easily! Four to three for Graf. She has actually won the match, I think. Sanchez is going to serve."

After the next game:

"The German was able to break Sanchez serving! Graf leads five to three. She is going to serve for the match winning!....."

Beispiele von Schülerrückmeldungen nach der Präsentation einer Fernsehhausübung Hungary

We saw a short film about Hungary. The minister Magiar Suda said, that a new, historical generation has began. Hungary is a democratic legal state.

The speaker of this text spoke very quickly, sometimes I couldn't understand him.

interesting to see the news - I think it was good for our English - a lot of new words - it was difficult to speak as fast as the English man

Worksheet about Hungary:

Hungary buried 40 years of communism; issuing in a western-style democracy. Magiar Suda, Head of state made a speech from the parliament balcony in which he mentioned the growing relations with the USA (There were cheers and applause when he said it)

we looked at the film

we spoke the "s" in different ways

I think it was good to learn something about, "really" English. It's difficult to speak so fast. We learned a lot of new words. That was a fine practice for us.
